Summary

My name is Bintang Ramadhan, you may call me Bram for short. I am currently a System Information Student at University of Brawijaya. Passionate at Software Engineering and a skilful Full-Stack Web Developer. I have been freelancing as a Web Developer over the past two years. I have developed and worked for up to 10 projects for web based software. The more I learn, the more I know that I know nothing. That being said, I will never stop learning and get more experiences up ahead.
